1.4.311
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant Theodore Cottingham, September 26, 2006 3pm. London www.unc.bz

1. This is the year/day of Jubilee for you my friend, friend of sinners and saints and all manner of broods. I love you. For you my friend fly tonight, not as thought, but in thought, having taken wings, your mind no longer your own; mine only comes, breezes in, not; but breaking out into warfare, not; but peace; peace that the world won't know how to handle/what to do with, or even how to think about. You've become me my friend my lover who father is. We are one.

2. I love/thank you for seeing the train not, the trials not; but the fruitage, gummage of only me is. Trials not; you steer clear of many/most and whoso can see the navigator/navigation systems of only me, for/in my mine? I love you.

3. The world stands still, not; but part of it does, momentarily. I love you. Cataclysmic shifting, world platelets/powers shifting, colliding; memories lost, regained. I love you all. This is the hour/planet of me and me coming forth now me's others. Watch me/us. Lovely. Incarcerated not, now freeing, Isaiah 61-ing many; all who let us/receive us, what we have to say/offer, writing not the planets, but how now shifting/rewiring thought does/takes place. I love you all.

4. This is the moment that all changes, not; but mass transit does. I love you.

5. See me in the cataclysmic not-me; and me, voice, my mine, orders, not; revelation/revelatory truths coming forth, freeing, healing, many. I love you all.

6. See not the trials/circumstances thought, adoptors, adoptees, but only me. My word stands. Who is/being my word? Those who've eaten it, eaten me, ingested me, ruminated/valued me my words, incarcerating no one and freeing themselves in the process. I love you.

7. This is the moment all changes and some fight momentarily but see the fruit/healings and who can fight with that? I love you man of steel, not; man of war, not; love lover loving my finest and worst thought, lifting my all to see my face, in theirs; holy, perceived not in righteousness maybe at first, but beholding me, will/do. I love all, you. Amen.

8. Making my appearance steadily across Europe and Baltics not, into Russia proper/central and who can see the Asians not minor'd. I love you all.

9. See the Europe railway bashed not but incarcerated by not me. I love you still, all.

10. My heart goes out, comes in, never leaves/stays in my body real. I love you.

11. "This is the captain speaking," not; this is me, simpleton not; one simple guy/one who jeans and hat on, not; steel and guts, forthwith's my words of steel, not; but grace mercy and forgiveness, not; but love, revelation, brings to all languages, European, Baltic, Russian, Asian; and is there anything too hard for God? Yea, see one language, all, and all hearing from me in my language. Africa all. Every nation tribe and tongue. Watch me all my languager one. Mine, all mine/yours if you choose, him not; me. We are one. Father are. I love you all. Amen.

12. School not another without me.

13. I love/thank you all who abides with/in me and this word, will. Amen.

14. Thou art holy and I am holy and I am thou art and whoso chooses me forsakes another. Non existent was, is, and walk through them/all. I love you all.

15. Good day.

16. England/London yours not, mine; all.

17. Centuries past/future. All me, mine, now this hour/day. Second not. First.

I love you.

Me